Mr. R. L. Miller, of Clinton, Iowa, assistant to Mr. Evans, in the local Weather Burcau, was asked about the cold in the West. Mr. Miller said:

"The coldest weather I ever experienced was in December, 1901, at Sloux City, Iowa, when the thermometer went down to 22 degrees below zero. For two days that was the low mark, and, although the United States Weather Burcau at which I was stationed, was in a large store building, heated by steam, I suffered considerably.

"Thirty miles an hour was the speed of the wind during those two days, and it was a wind from the northwest. All trains were late and no one left suciter unless he was obliged to go out. A remarkable fact in this regard was that the sun shone brightly during the cold. Ice on the Missouri River, in the channel, was 28 inches thick."

in the Library Basement.

Before the old Capitol was dismantled to make way for the improvements in progress there the Capitol police were wont to seek comfort before the cheery blaze of an open fireplace in the basement during the intervals between their tours of duty. When the quarters of the force were transferred to the Library building which was heated only by steam, the old fireplace was sadly missed. Folice Officer Wallace Jenkins, who in days gone by used to enjoy the crackle of a big log fire in old-Hanover, wis disconsolate at the loss of his fireplace, and through force of habit would stand near the wall in the basement of the Library rubbing his hands as of yora. Mr. William Harman, engineer of the Library building, had his sympathles aroused, and has recently rigged up a pair of old fron firedogs, on which are several charred silcks of wood before which Mr. Jenking now unctuously pubs his hands and enjoys the imaginary blaze.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionied the Treatment of Stomach Troubles. The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, noither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure asceptic pepsin (government test), golden scal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspensia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to discounting digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap eatherites, which simply irritute and inflame the linestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Luart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a new years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, herve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour siomach, gas and bloading after meals, because they blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "fonies," "pills" and catharties which have absolutely no digestive sower.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merits better than any other argument.

New Jersey Decision Reversed Yesterday by Supreme Court of the United States.

INJUNCTION IS DISSOLVED

Company Can Now Dispose of Stock Held Up by Opposing Interests.

PHILADELPHIA, PA. January 8,-The United States Court of Appeals for the Third Judicial District, in an opinion filed here to-day, reverses a decision of the New Jersey Circuit Court, which reacter.

In ordering that the resolutions which were offered and the memorial sketches prepared by Messrs, W. A. Jones and W. Walker, be spread upon the minutes of the court, Judge T. R. B. Wight paid a high tribute to the character of Mr. Smith.

By a decree of the New Jersey Court the Northern Scourities Company was restrained from disposing of 270,220 shares strained from disposing of 370,220 shares of the common stock of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, alleged to have been received from E. H. Harriman and Winslow S. Plorce, and of 347,090 shares of the common stock of the Northern Pacific Railway Company received by the Northern Securities Company.

Northern Pacific Company,

Can Dispose of Stock.

To-day's decision, however, gives the Northern Securities Company the right to dispose of the stock. Harriman and Pierce, when the Northern Securities Company had been declared by the United States Supreme Court to be an illegal combination, demanded the return of the original stock they had contributed at the time of the organization of the combination. The Northern Securities Company, it was claimed, intended to make a prorate distribution of the stock of the contributing company.

"The Northern Securities Company is the owner of 1,537,594 shares of the stock of the Northern Pacific Company, which has been restrained from voting or receiving dividends, and in view of this regiraint, all parties agree that it should not continue. The Northern Securities Company, accordingly proposes to assign them pro-rate to its shareholders, including not less than 2,500 persons whose shares are unquestionably acquired by purchase, and who are not parties to this suit; and as such disposition of them would effect a ratable, and, therefore, equitable division of them amongst all who are entitled to participate in a distribution of the corporate assets, we are of the opinion that the injunction which prohibited it should no longer remain in force." cohibited it should no longer remain in Judge Gray filed a dissenting opinion. Plans of Harriman Faction.

NEW YORK, January 3.—The adjourned annual meeting of the Northern Securities stockholders in Hoboken to-day was again adjourned until January 5th.

Representatives of the Harriman faction were in conference to-day, and it can be authoritatively stated that application by writ of certiorari will be made before the Supreme Court at Washington.

J. J. Hill was seen at his office. He said he was pleased, but not surprised, at the decision. There will be no haste, he gaid, in distributing the assets of the Northern Securities Company.

Mr. Hill was naked whether there would be a meeting of the opposing interests as if result of to-day's decision. He said he knew of ne reason for such a meeting.
